Shire Library 590 first emerged in 1939, amidst the glamour and exuberance of the Art Deco era. This timeless design mirrored the societal shift towards sleek lines, geometric shapes, and striking color combinations.

Over the decades, Shire Library 590 has transcended its original context to become a modern collectible. Its enduring appeal lies in its unique character and the enduring legacy of Clarice Cliff.

The Artist behind the Masterpiece

Born in 1899, Clarice Cliff was a self-taught artist who broke barriers in a male-dominated art world. Her bold vision and fearless experimentation pushed the boundaries of ceramics.

Cliff's exceptional talent gained recognition in the 1920s, earning her the prestigious position of Art Director at Newport Pottery. There, she revolutionized traditional pottery techniques, introducing vibrant colors and geometric designs.

A Symphony of Color and Pattern

Shire Library 590 embodies Clarice Cliff's signature style. The vivid cobalt blue glaze captures the beauty of the night sky, while the swirling Art Deco motifs evoke a sense of movement and energy.

Cliff's mastery of color and pattern is evident in the playful juxtaposition of geometric shapes and whimsical creatures. The result is a visually captivating design that transcends time and style.
