Introduction: A Brief History of the Ethiopian Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus and the Lutheran Mission in Ethiopia

The Ethiopian Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus (EECMY) is a national Lutheran Church with its own remarkable history going back to the seventeenth century when Peter Hesling, a Lutheran missionary from Germany, arrived in Ethiopia in 1634 and started evangelical work within the Ethiopian Orthodox Church (EOC) for a short period. This pioneer missionary helped lay the foundation for later missionary work in Ethiopia. In the eighteenth century, a great evangelical revival took place in the British Isles. This revival emphasized the transformation of the individual through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. Believers were urged to deny self, dedicating their lives to serve others and to win them for Christ. The revival resulted in bringing about social reforms and initiating new mission societies dedicated to bringing the Gospel to those who had never heard the good news.²

Hailu Yohannes Bulaka was born on May 23, 1967 in Southern part of Ethiopia, Shewa, Alefa Woreda. He is married and has 4 children; 3 boys and one daughter. He graduated in Theology from Mekane Yesus Seminary in 1997. He is pastor in one congregation and president of the Ethiopian Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus South Central Ethiopia Synod (EECMY/SCES) since 2008. He currently does studies in the Doctor of Ministry Program Concordia Seminary, St. Louis.
